How does DTH hammer drilling work?

A flushing current conveys the loosened drill cuttings upwards and exits at the upper end of the casing. If you have any further questions, please contact our local sales or service team. DTH hammer drilling is a percussive drilling process powered by compressed air.

How do you drill a rock with a DTH hammer?

This method is mainly applied for hard to very hard rock and/or for penetrating large boulders. 1. Setting the DTH hammer with drill rod and casing on the drilling point. 2. Rotary and percussive drilling of the drill string under compressed air supply. 3. After reaching the final depth, unlocking of the drill rod with DTH hammer and pilot bit.

How to use DTH hammer?

1. Setting the DTH hammer with drill rod and casing on the drilling point. 2. Rotary and percussive drilling of the drill string under compressed air supply. 3. After reaching the final depth, unlocking of the drill rod with DTH hammer and pilot bit. 4. Withdrawal of the drill rod, DTH hammer and pilot bit out of the casing. 5.

Should engineers use low pressure DTH hammers?

Engineers should consider using low-pressure DTH hammers in their drilling operations to improve drilling performance and reduce maintenance costs. Furthermore, low pressure DTH hammers can be used to drill deeper and wider holes, which can be advantageous for foundation and pile construction in urban developments.

What is a atd100 air track drill used for?

Used for solar panel installation, dam remediation, drilling shafts, tunneling, dock installation, pipeline, stone quarries and shoring. Can be used for many other applications due to its versatility. Driven by a 5-HP piston air motor, the ATD100 Air Track Drill has a rotary head that can revolve at a torque of up to 1125 N-m and 60 rpm

What is a down-the-hole drilling method?

The video shows the down-the-hole drilling method for very hard soil or rock. A rotary drilling rig, type LB 20, working with down-the-hole hammer inside a casing. A flushing current conveys the loosened drill cuttings upwards and exits at the upper end of the casing.
